Anime Social Platform

Chinese characters are mainly used to in Internet Portal reporting, which obstructed Western users in getting involved when desired. Hence, Culturecom is going to release a 3D platform – Ucan.com to break this barrier with the use of animation figures. This new channel aims to comprise words, graphics, videos, animations and other interactive functions to bring forth further interaction and to demolish language restrictions.

Ucan.com is easy to use and has an abundant database of anime characters which can be customized to suit personal needs. The database is continuously expanding to provide more chances and varieties, and more oriental elements are also inserted to promote the Chinese culture.
