Cloud City by Culturecom

To promote the Chinese culture to the globe, Culturecom (343.HK) and the Asian superstar Jay Chou established Ucan Cloud City with the Cloud computing technology, bringing the world the first social platform featuring Hong Kong city life

Ucan.com integrates the virtue of Hong Kong local comics and the creative talent of Jay in its App City and transfers the real life into the virtual world. With the help of the Cloud computing technology, users can interact and share in this online city, in which, you may choose your own avatar, build your own house, open your online store and live your dream life without boundary.

CEO of Ucan.com Mr. Michael Leung said, "Ucan.com will launch a series of programs to promote the Chinese culture to the world and build a Chinese brand by capitalizing from the global market."
